Preface

This is the second edition of The A to Z Guide to Afghanistan Assistance. Our first edition was brought out one year ago at a time of great change in Afghanistan. At that time, coordination mechanisms and aid processes were changing so fast that old hands and new arrivals alike were sometimes overwhelmed by the multiplicity of acronyms and references to structures and entities that had been recently created, abolished or re-named.

Eighteen months after the fall of the Taliban and the signing of the Bonn Agreement, there are still rapid new developments, a growing complexity to the reconstruction effort and to planning processes and, of course, new acronyms!

Our aim therefore remains to provide a guide to the terms, structures, mechanisms and coordinating bodies critical to the Afghanistan relief and reconstruction effort to help ensure a shared vocabulary and common understanding of the forces at play. We've also included maps and a contact directory to make navigating the assistance community easier. This 2nd edition also includes a section called "Resources," containing information on such things as media organisations, security information, and Afghanistan-related web sites. Another new addition is a guide to the Afghan government. As the objective of so many assistance agencies is to support and strengthen government institutions, we felt that understanding how the Afghan government is structured is important to working in the current environment. We hope you find these new additions useful.

We may have overlooked certain entries, and inevitably some of the facts will have already changed by the time we go to print. For this reason, we intend for this guide to remain a "live document." Resources permitting, AREU intends to update The A to Z Guide periodically in printed form and on a more regular basis on the AREU web site at www.areu.org.pk. We therefore encourage you to contact AREU with any additions, corrections and suggestions. Please send all comments to areu.org.pk.

Finally, AREU would like to thank the governments of Sweden and Switzerland and the United Nations Assistance Mission in Afghanistan (UNAMA) for the support that has made publications like this A to Z Guide possible.

Contact Directory

This contact directory provides a list of street addresses, phone numbers and e-mail addresses for the assistance community, government and foreign embassies in Afghanistan. You will also find a version of this directory on our web site at www.areu.org.pk.

To the best of our knowledge, the information in this directory is accurate as of July 2003. However, addresses, phone numbers and e-mail contacts are constantly changing as organisations re-locate, expand and test different communications systems. We have included information on field offices in each province when it was provided, but this information is far from complete. Because we rely on the voluntary contributions of organisations to keep this list comprehensive, accurate and up-to-date, we urge you to send any additions or changes to areu@areu.org.pk.

All addresses are in Afghanistan, except for the last section, which, as indicated, lists contact information of Afghan-related offices in Pakistan. Please also refer to the map section of this guide for locations of UN agencies, embassies, government offices and NGOs.

Please note that telephone numbers marked "Phone" refer to either the digital phone network installed in 2000-2001, or to the local, analogue land line system. Analogue service is inconsistent, and callers using local phones can generally only call other local numbers. The digital numbers are more reliable and can be reached by other networks by dialing the prefix "20" before the number. "Satellite" refers to the various satellite services available, including the Thuraya satellite network in Afghanistan. "Mobile" refers to the GSM system of the Afghanistan Wireless Communications Company (AWCC).

Contact information is provided by province (e.g. Kabul, Herat, Wardak), and then within each province by type of organisation (e.g. donors, NGOs, UN).

Information Resources

The following section is a selection of resources that may be of interest to those working in Afghanistan. It is not a comprehensive list, rather one that is meant to alert people to the variety of resources available in a few key areas:

General

Transitional Islamic State of Afghanistan's Information Resources

www.af

The government maintains its own web site, which provides planning and policy documents, speeches by government and UN officials and information on coordination mechanisms and on UN assistance.

AACA's Donor Assistance Database (DAD)

www.af/dad/index.html

A web-based database that includes information and data related to finance and aid coordination in Afghanistan. Data on aid flows to the government can be sorted by theme, location, donor and implementing agency and can be exported to produce reports, charts and maps. Information is regularly updated based on information provided by donors. The database is available in English, and possibly soon in Dari. A CD-Rom version of the database will be distributed during the summer of 2003.

The Survival Guide to Kabul

www.kabulguide.net

The Survival Guide provides information on life in Kabul for visitors. It includes a bit of history, information on transportation, sightseeing, hotels and guest houses, food, and tips on security. More extensive information has just been published by the same authors in the first edition of Kabul – The Brandt Mini Guide, which is available for purchase in bookstores and from street vendors.

Humanitarian Air Services

Airserve/PACTEC

A humanitarian flight and communications service, for the NGO community that operates internal flights to almost all airports in the country. It has been in operation since 1998 and is currently opening new airstrips. Airserve/Pactec also sets up communications Systems for NGOs.

ICRC

A flight service run by the International Committee of the Red Cross that operates internal flights to the major cities in Afghanistan two times per week, and to Peshawar every day except Fridays. It is a free service available to NGOs that are registered with the ICRC office in Kabul.

UNHAS

A flight service run by the World Food Programme (WFP) that provides cargo and passenger flight services for UN agencies, NGOs, and donor organisations. As of mid 2003, there are regular flights from Kabul to Islamabad, Dubai and Dushanbe as well as internal flights to and from all major destinations within Afghanistan.

Security

Afghan NGO Security Organisation (ANSO)

ANSO is a security coordinating body in Afghanistan that provides free security information and services especially for the NGO community, including mission advice. Regional offices are located in Kabul, Mazar-e-Sharif, Herat, Jalalabad and Kandahar. Weekly meetings are held at ACBAR in Kabul and are open to all. (See Glossary section for more information).

Emergency Task Force (ETF)

The ETF is the only UN-run discussion forum that brings together the UN and NGOs, donors and government on humanitarian and security issues. It was originally established to provide updates on emergency situations (i.e. earthquakes, floods or sudden population movements). Weekly meetings are held at UNDP and are open to all.

UN Security Coordination (UNSECOORD)

UNSECOORD is the UN department responsible for setting security phases for UN operations and for developing new security measures to enable the UN to continue its operations. UNSECOORD aims to meet the needs of security personnel in the assistance community, but will also offer mission and travel advice to non-security members of the assistance community upon request. UNSECOORD also offers a periodic security induction course and hosts daily security briefings at UNDP.

Media and News Sources

PRINT & RADIO

Anis

Anis is one of Afghanistans oldest government-sponsored, government-run daily newspapers. It is also one of the only papers to have published continuously throughout the successive crises of the last 25 years. Anis is published in Kabul and is distributed in the main cities of Afghanistan in Dari (about 75 percent) and Pashtu (about 25 percent) with focus on national and international news, analysis and current events.

Armani Milli

A government-sponsored, government-run daily newspaper that provides analysis and critiques of cultural, political, economic and governance issues. It began publishing immediately following the establishment of the Afghan Interim Authority (AIA); its aim is to provide a government perspective on political issues. The paper is published in Dari and Pashtu.

Bakhtar Information Agency

The main government-run, government-sponsored news wire service in Afghanistan, Bakhtar circulates news and events to feed into government-run papers. The service, which is run by the Ministry of Information and Culture, is distributed in Dari, Pashtu and English.

Eqtedar Milli

Heywad

A government-run, government-sponsored daily newspaper, similar to Anis but published mainly in Pashtu (about 75 percent) and Dari (about 25 percent).

Good Morning Afghanistan/Good Evening Afghanistan

1275 mw, 105.2 FM, 92.2 FM, 90.0 FM

A radio programme that airs in the morning and in the evening in Dari, Pashtu and English. The programme focuses on political and cultural information and features interviews with government officials, among others.

Kabul Times

A government-run weekly newspaper that has been in existence since 1962. The Kabul Times includes news articles and editorials on current events in Afghanistan, and is published in English twice per week.

Kabul Weekly

An independent weekly newspaper. Banned by the Taliban, it was re-launched in January 2002, with funding from French media organisation, AINA. Published in Dari, Pashtu and English.

Kilid

An independent weekly newspaper focusing on current events in Afghanistan, particularly at the regional level. Publishes and distributes most of the independent publications in Afghanistan, including Morcel, a monthly publication targeted at women in the provinces. Kilid plans to launch a local community-based radio programme in 2003. Published in Dari and Pashtu.

Malalai

A monthly publication for women that focuses on political, cultural and social issues. Published in English and Dari.

New Home/New Life (BBC)

105.1 FM

One of the most popular radio programmes in Afghanistan, it targets rural populations and runs stories on health, education and other public interest topics. The programme is produced by the BBC with support from UNESCO.

Radio Afghanistan

1107 mw, 271 khz

A government-sponsored, government-run local news programme that was established in the 1920s as Afghanistan's first radio show. The programme airs primarily in Dari, Pashtu and other Afghan languages, with special programmes in Arabic, English, French, Russian and Urdu.

Radio BBC

(Dari - shortwave) 11750 (25), 17870 (16), 15380 (19), 17870 (16), 2515 (13), 13610 (Pashtu - shortwave) 7135, 9875, 17,615, 5875, 7135, 1685, 15,380, 17,870, 15,155, 1515, 13755, 6195

Seerat

Established shortly after the fall of the Taliban, Seerat is an independent publication for women that produces editorials, poetry and articles on cultural and political issues. It is published with support from AINA.

Tolehi-Afghanistan

This is an independent weekly publication with analysis and critiques of cultural, political, economic and government issues.

ELECTRONIC/INTERNET

Afghan News

www.afghannews.net

One of the first Afghan online news network services, Afghan News provides access to top news stories from local and international news sources, as well as links to other news services in Dari and Pashtu.

Afghan Online

www.afghan-web.com/

A comprehensive web site that provides cultural, economic, historical, political and other information on Afghanistan as well as links to news sources.

Development Gateway – Afghanistan Reconstruction

www.developmentgateway.org

A World Bank-sponsored web page on reconstructions-related issues in Afghanistan. The site provides access to articles, reports, analysis and events in a variety of areas (i.e. political, humanitarian, reconstruction, women).

Integrated Regional Information Network (IRIN)

www.irin.org

A humanitarian and development news service that provides analytical reporting in countries affected by conflict or humanitarian concerns worldwide. Its Afghanistan office is located in Kabul and is administered by the UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA). IRIN distributes news and feature articles through its web site and through daily and weekly updates.

ReliefWeb

www.reliefweb.int

A web-based service that provides information from UN, NGO and government sources on humanitarian, development and aid coordination issues worldwide. The site has an Afghanistan page that is updated daily with press releases and news from the UN, NGOs and multilateral organisations. The web site is in English.

Research

ACBAR Resource and Information Center (ARIC)

www.afghanresources.org/index.asp

ARIC is a resource library associated with the Agency Coordinating Body for Afghanistan Relief (ACBAR) that hosts the largest collections of materials on Afghanistan in the region, including books, reports, maps and videos. ARIC also sponsors more than 400 libraries throughout Afghanistan, including mobile libraries. ARIC is headquartered in Peshawar, Pakistan.

Afghanistan Research and Evaluation Unit (AREU)

www.areu.org.pk

AREU is an independent research institution based in Kabul that provides research and analysis on humanitarian, policy and development issues affecting Afghanistan's reconstruction. AREU publishes periodic issues papers and is also engaged in long-term research on a range of topics. The AREU also publishes this Guide. All AREU publications are available directly from its office in Kabul or through its web site.

Afghan Information Management Service (AIMS)

www.aims.org.pk

AIMS produces standard and custom geographic information systems (GIS) maps, and provides technical assistance to organisations on design databases and GIS systems. AIMS is based in Kabul, but has field representation in UNAMA's offices in Herat, Mazar-e-Sharif, Kandahar, Kunduz and Jalalabad. AIMS' datasets and maps are free and available from any of its offices and through its web site.
