Protection Assessments

UNHCR led Protection Sector Working Group (PSWG) Participatory Protection Assessments in Adamawa, Yobe and Taraba States in July in order to have a holistic picture of protection concerns and severity of issues in the most affected displacement sites, including both host communities, return areas and formal camps, to prioritize the most urgent issues for targeted assistance.

The PSWG Adamawa Participatory Protection Assessment in was conducted from July 9 – 15, 2016. The assessment targeted 36 wards of the eight Local Government Areas (LGAs) most affected by the Boko Haram insurgency: five LGAs Madagali, Michika, Mubi North, Mubi South and Girei with majority of its population being returnees and few pockets of IDPs, as well as three LGAs of Yola North, Yola South and Fufore in formal and informal sites and host communities. As Adamawa State is largely at the stage of fulfilling durable solutions to displacement and insurgency, the rapid assessment focused upon return areas. The assessment was conducted by 68 screeners broken into seven teams, including PSWG members such as ADSEMA, NEMA, NHRC, DRC, IOM, FHI360 and PSWG Secretariat, under the supervision of UNHCR. Key findings are being drafted and validated by members of the Adamawa PSWG, including recommendations and follow-up actions.

The PSWG Taraba Participatory Protection Assessment was conducted in three LGAs of Jalingo, Ardo Kola and Gassol. 16 screeners conducted the exercise, including participants from Nigerian Red Cross Society, National Human Rights Commission and members of the PSWG. There are no official camps in Taraba State, with IDPs living in host communities and camp-like settlements. As such, the assessment took place in the most affected areas, with the greatest IDP concentrations.

Serious protection risks and trends including sexual violence and exploitation and a range of physical/safety protection risks have been identified by the PSWG assessments, with the formal report concerning the findings forthcoming
