This fund is determined through a decision of the Assembly and comprises a separate item in the State Budget for the respective electoral year. This fund may not be lower than the aggregate sum allocated to political parties in the previous elections.

2. Within 5 days from the declaration of the final result at national level, the CEC determines, by a decision, the monetary value of a valid vote, dividing the adopted general fund by the overall number of valid votes received by the political parties that participated in the last elections which have received no less than 0.5 per cent of valid votes at national level. For elections for local government bodies, the calculation is based on the number of votes received for the local councils at national level.

The result from this division is multiplied by the number of valid votes received by the respective political party in the previous elections.

2. The fund defined according to letter “b” of article 87/2 is distributed by dividing this fund with the number of the political parties that profit funds, but in no case may this amount be higher than the smallest amount profited by one party, according to point 1 of this article.

3. For elections to the Assembly, the applied criterion is the result at national level as declared by the CEC for the previous elections to the Assembly. b) verify immediately whether the numbers of the security codes of the seals with which the ballot box with the ballot papers and the box of voting materials are closed match the numbers of the security codes, according to the records kept for this voting centre, in compliance with article 113 of this Code. If these codes do not match, the receiving team informs the CEAZ about the discrepancy and requests it to mark the box as an “IRREGULAR BOX”. The CEAZ verifies the discrepancy immediately and makes a decision, in accordance with point 4 of this article. The discrepancies found are recorded in the Record of Receipt and the CEAZ Meeting Records Book.

3. When, while receiving the ballot boxes with the ballot papers and the box with the voting materials, the receiving team finds that:

a) one or more seals with security codes are missing or broken;

b) the seals with the security codes have been placed in a way that allows space between the box itself and its lid;

c) the box has fissures or cracks in its body or lid that make it possible to insert or retrieve ballot papers or other voting materials;
or

ç) the box is of a different type, shape or size from those established by the CEC;

then the receiving team immediately informs the CEAZ about the irregularity and requests it to mark the box as an “IRREGULAR BOX”. The CEAZ immediately verifies the irregularity and makes a decision, according to point 4 of this article. The irregularity found is recorded in the Record of Receipt and the CEAZ Meeting Records Book.

4. In cases when receiving teams find irregularities in one of the boxes with ballot papers, in accordance with points 2 and 3 of this article, while receiving the boxes with ballot papers for a voting centre, then that box is considered an “IRREGULAR BOX” and is sent to the corner of irregular boxes, whereas the box with voting materials, and in the case of local elections, the other box with ballot papers, are subject to procedures in accordance with articles 116 to 119 of this Code.

If, in the case of local elections, both boxes with ballot papers are considered irregular, then both boxes with ballot papers and the respective box of voting materials are placed in the corner of irregular boxes. When only the box of voting materials is defined as an “IRREGULAR BOX”, it is subject to the opening and counting procedures along with the ballot boxes with the ballot papers.

5. The ballot boxes defined as an “IRREGULAR BOX” shall not be opened at any time and for any reason by the CEAZ and shall not be forwarded to the Counting Team. They are sent together with the box of voting materials to the CEC for administrative investigation purposes, in accordance with article 136 and point 4 of article 138 of this Code.

6. The CEAZ keeps a Record of Findings, in which it notes data about the ballot boxes with ballot papers or boxes with voting materials declared as irregular, in accordance with points 2, 3 and 4 of this article, as well as data on the inaccuracies and irregularities found during the application of the procedures of article 116 of this Code. Copies of the Record of Findings are given to the CEAZ members and to observers of parliamentary parties.

7. The members of the receiving team, the Chair, Deputy Chair and secretary of the VCC, as well as the police officer assigned with the duty of accompanying, sign the Record of Receipt. The original Record of Receipt is administered by the CEAZ, which gives a copy respectively to the Chair, Deputy Chair of the VCC and to the police officer assigned with the duty of accompanying. The police officer shall leave immediately after receiving a copy of the Record of Receipt, which is delivered together with the service report to his/her respective command structure.

8. The Record of Receipt is prepared by the CEC as a template and shall contain the time of receipt, the number of the voting centre, the seals with the security codes with which the boxes with the ballot papers and boxes of voting materials are sealed, the space for describing discrepancies or irregularities found, as well as the space for signatures.

9. The ballot boxes with the ballot papers and the boxes of voting materials, received by the receiving teams, are put in the place designated in advance for that purpose by the CEAZ. This place shall be in the same premises where the count of ballots takes place and shall be secured from any interference by unauthorised persons.

10. The ballot boxes with the ballot papers received as regular shall, in any case, be subject to opening and counting procedures at the Ballot Counting Centres in accordance with the provisions of this Code. Refusal to count leads to immediate discharge of persons responsible for counting or, as the case may be, of the CEAZ. Refusal to count a box received as regular constitutes a criminal offence and is punishable according to article 330/a of the Criminal Code.

Article 116*

Counting the ballots

1. The CEAZ shall make a decision to start the counting of votes only after having received all boxes with the ballot papers and boxes of voting materials from all the voting centres under its jurisdiction. For the Municipality of Tirana, the CEAZ of the borough starts the counting in the following order:

- a) ballot boxes for the Mayor of Tirana Municipality;
- b) ballot boxes for the Council of Tirana Municipality;
- c) ballot boxes for the mayor of the borough;
- ç) ballot boxes for the council of the borough.

2. The Counting Team members take from the stack of ballot boxes, one after the other and in ascending order of the ordinal numbers of the voting centres, the ballot boxes with the ballots of only one voting centre and put them by the table of the respective Counting Team. Then, the Counting Team members receive from the secretary of the CEAZ the sample of the VCC Chair stamp, deposited in compliance with point 2 of article 100 of this Code.

3. Then, the First Counter places the ballot box with ballot papers on the table and opens it, by breaking the seals with the security codes. Initially, the Counting Team verifies the data in the Record of the Closing of the Polls.

* Amended by Law no. 74/2012, dated 19 July 2012.

4. If the Record of the Closing of the Polls is found in the box and is filled in accordance with article 113 of this Code, the counting will continue in accordance with procedures set out in this article. If the Record of the Closing of the Polls is missing, or if the data under article 113 of this Code are not filled in, the procedure specified in article 116/1 of this Code shall apply.

5. After the Record of the Closing of the Polls is taken out, or after the Record of Findings is filled in, the First Counter and members of the Counting Team take the ballot papers and the envelope with the Record of Sealing out the box, unfold the ballot papers and put them on the table with the reverse of the sheet facing up.

6. The stacked ballot papers are counted by the First Counter, who, at the conclusion of the count, declares the figure to the Counting Team members and the observers of electoral subjects. The declared figure is checked against the figure on the voter turnout that is written down in the Record of the Closing of the Polls. If the figures do not match or if requested by any of the Counting Team members, the First Counter shall recount the ballot papers.

7. If the verification reveals discrepancies, then the Counting Team or any of the observers of the electoral subjects who identifies the discrepancies, notify immediately the CEAZ about them. The notification is done by raising one's hand and without moving from one's own spot. The raising of the hand suspends any further action of the Counting Team until the CEAZ is informed of the issue and verifies it. If the CEAZ confirms the irregularity, it reflects it in the Record of Findings. The CEAZ makes a decision to continue the procedures for the counting of votes by the Counting Team only after recording the inaccuracy or irregularity in the Record of Findings. The Counting Team is informed immediately about the decision of the CEAZ.

Opening of the boxes with voting materials

1. The box with voting materials shall be opened during the counting process at the Ballot Counting Centre only when the Record of the Closing of the Polls is missing from the box with ballot papers, or when the data according to article 113 of the Code are not recorded in the Record of the Closing of the Polls.

* Added by Law no. 74/2012, dated 19 July 2012.

2. In this case, the Counting Team or any of the observers of the electoral subjects who identifies this, notifies immediately the CEAZ about it. The notification is done by raising one's hand and without moving from one's own spot. The raising of the hand suspends any further action of the Counting Team, until the CEAZ is informed of the issue and verifies it. If the CEAZ confirms the inaccuracy or irregularity, it reflects it in the Record of Findings. The CEAZ makes a decision to continue the procedures for the verification of the voting material and the suspension of the counting of votes by the Counting Team only after recording the inaccuracy or irregularity in the Record of Findings. The Counting Team is informed immediately about the decision of the CEAZ.

3. The box with ballot papers, the counting of which is suspended, is placed by the counting table and the First Counter takes the box with voting materials of the respective voting centre. Then, the Counting Team opens the box with voting materials, by breaking the security seals. First, it is verified whether the Record of the Closing of the Polls is found in the box, [and whether it is] filled in accordance with the requirements of the Code. In this case, the Record of Findings is filled in and the Record of the Closing of the Polls is given to the CEAZ. Then, the box is closed with security seals and the Counting Teams continues the counting of the ballots, according to procedures set out in point 5 and onward of article 116 of the Code.

4. When the Record of the Closing of the Polls is not found in the box with voting materials or it is not filled in accordance with article 113, the Counting Team fills in the Record of Findings and then performs the following procedures:

- a) it verifies whether the following are found in the box:
 - i) the envelope marked as "UNUSED BALLOT PAPERS";
 - ii) the envelope marked as "SPOILED BALLOT PAPERS";
 - iii) the voter list, including the special register, in accordance with article 57 of this Code;
 - iv) the original VCC decisions and unused templates for VCC decisions;
 - v) the stamp of the VCC;
 - vi) the stamp of the VCC Chair;
 - vii) seals with the unused security codes; viii) seals with the damaged security codes, if any;

ix) the VCC Meeting Records Book; and

x) the accompanying documentation of ballot papers with the respective serial numbers;

b) initially, the First Counter compares the stamp of the VCC Chair with the sample stamp and presents the finding to the team members;

c) the First Counter counts the unused ballot papers and, at the conclusion of the counting, declares the figure to the Counting Team members and the observers of the electoral subjects. If any of the members of the Counting Team requests a recount, the First Counter shall recount the unused ballot papers;

ç) the First Counter counts the spoiled ballot papers and, at the conclusion of the counting, declares the figure to the Counting Team members and the observers of electoral subjects. If any of the members of the Counting Team requests a recount, the First Counter shall recount the spoiled ballot papers;

d) the First Counter counts the voters who have voted, according to the signatures on the voter list, including those in accordance with article 57 of this Code, and, at the conclusion of the count, declares the figure to the members of the Counting Team. If the figures do not match, or if any of the members of the Counting Team requests a recount, the First Counter shall recount the voters who have voted. The remarks are written down in the Record of Findings;

dh) the First Counter records the data on the total number of ballot papers delivered to the VCC, according to their accompanying documentation;

e) then the box is sealed with security codes and the Counting Team continues with the counting of ballots in accordance with the procedures set out in point 5 and onward of article 116 of this Code.

5. At the conclusion of the counting and tabulation of the EAZ result, boxes with voting materials shall be sent to the CEC together with the ballot boxes. Boxes with voting materials shall be opened by the CEC during the examination of complaints, in accordance with article 136 and/or point 1 of article 138 of the Code, if the requested evidence is administered according to this Code, in the box with voting materials.

Article 117*

Types of votes and criteria for evaluating a vote

1. Ballot papers are divided into valid or invalid votes.
2. Only ballot papers on which a vote has been clearly cast for only one of the electoral subjects or for a political party which is a member of a coalition on the respective ballot paper are valid votes.
3. Invalid votes are the ballot papers where:
 - a) the ballot paper does not have the same size, colour or format as the ballot paper approved by the CEC;
 - b) the stamps provided for in article 103 of this Code are missing from the ballot paper;
 - c) notations or signs are made on the ballot paper that make the evaluation of the vote impossible;
 - ç) notations in favour or in disfavour of certain electoral subjects are made on the ballot paper;
 - d) there is a vote for more than one of the electoral subjects on the ballot paper;
 - dh) no electoral subject is voted for on the ballot paper;
 - e) it is not clear for whom the vote is cast; or
 - ë) the voter has voted for a person or a subject that is not on the ballot paper.
4. The evaluation of votes aims at identifying, as much as possible, the voter's intent. Pursuant to this article, the CEC shall draft special guidelines to facilitate the work and unify the practice of evaluation of the ballot papers by commissions and persons tasked under this Code with the counting and evaluation of votes.

Article 118*

Evaluation of votes

1. The evaluation of votes begins immediately after the completion of the counting of ballot papers. The First Counter of the Counting Team unfolds completely every ballot paper, evaluates it aloud, and acts in the following order:

* Amended by Law no. 74/2012, dated 19 July 2012.

a) he/she verifies whether the ballot paper has the same size, shape and colour as the ballot paper approved by the CEC; if not, he/she evaluates the vote as invalid;

b) he/she verifies whether the ballot paper carries the stamp of the VCC and the stamp of the VCC Chair; if not, he/she evaluates the vote as invalid;

c) he/she verifies whether there is any of the other reasons for declaring the vote invalid, as described in letters “c” to “è” of article 117 of this Code; if one of these reasons exists, he/she evaluates the vote as invalid.

2. If none of the circumstances described in point 1 of this article applies, the First Counter of the Counting Team gives his/her evaluation and then proposes to the other members to evaluate which political party or candidate the vote has been cast for. The First Counter shall show the ballot papers to the members of the Counting Team, as well as make possible the reading of the ballot paper by the recording camera in accordance with point 4 of article 94 of this Code.

If the members of the Counting Team and observers of the electoral subjects at the count agree with the First Counter’s evaluation, the ballot paper is categorised according to the evaluation and the First Counter proceeds with the next ballot paper.

If any of the members of the Counting Team or any of the observers of electoral subjects does not agree with the First Counter’s evaluation, the latter puts the contested ballot paper in a special place designated for contested ballot papers and proceeds with the next ballot paper.

3. In accordance with the evaluation described in point 1 of this article, the ballot papers are divided on the work table into specific and separate places in groupings of votes for each electoral subject, invalid votes and contested votes. In case of coalitions, the valid votes for each of the member parties of the coalition are grouped separately and near each-other, thus identifying the votes for each of the member parties of the coalition.

4. At the end of counting of the ballot papers for each ballot box, the Counting Team re-evaluates the contested ballot papers, in accordance with the third paragraph of point 2 of this article.

If there are still contested ballot papers after the re-evaluation, the First Counter or each member calls the CEAZ for the evaluation of the contested votes of that box. The CEAZ makes immediately an evaluation of each of the contested ballot papers and takes a decision on it. The result declared by the CEAZ is noted in the record book of CEAZ and is included in the respective table of results of the VC which is compiled by the Counting Team.

5. For each contested ballot paper, the First Counter of the Counting Team notes clearly on its reverse side the reasons for contesting it.

A special official record shall be kept for contested votes, in accordance with a form determined by a decision of the CEC, in which the total number of contested ballot papers for the respective VC is reflected. Upon the tabulation of the result, according to article 119 of this Code, the contested ballot papers and the respective official record shall be enclosed in the envelope marked as "CONTESTED BALLOTS".

6. After the counting and evaluation of the votes, according to this article, the First Counter counts the votes for each electoral subject, for each box with ballot papers, starting according to the order of the subjects on the ballot paper. After each count, he/she makes the figure known to the Counting Team members and to observers of electoral subjects. If requested by any of the members of the Counting Team, the First Counter shall restart once again the counting of the votes for that electoral subject.

If there are still objections after this second count, the First Counter of the Counting Team or the objecting member informs the CEAZ by raising his/her hand. The raising of the hand suspends any further action of the Counting Team until the CEAZ makes a decision. The CEAZ counts on the spot the votes for the electoral subject, which are subject to contestation, and orders the Counting Team to record the figure decided by it in the table of results for that Voting Centre.

7. The First Counter and the secretary of the Counting Team are responsible for implementing the obligations arising from the contestation of the ballot paper, according to this article. Failure to comply with this obligation is punishable by a fine according to article 171 of this Code.

Article 119*

Tabulation of the election result by the Counting Team

1. At the conclusion of the procedure specified in article 118 of this Code, the First Counter, together with the other members of the Counting Team, completes the table of results for that voting centre according to the template form prescribed by the CEC.

2. The original table of voting results, according to point 1 of this article, including contestations, if any, by a member of the Counting Team, is delivered immediately in person to the CEAZ by the Counting Team. A copy of the table of results is given to each member of the Counting Team and to the observers of electoral subjects. If any of the observers of electoral subjects has contestations regarding the tabulated results, they are recorded immediately in the CEAZ Book of Records.

One copy is immediately sent electronically to the CEC. The CEC publishes immediately on the web page the official results for each voting centre, upon official receipt from the CEAZ. The publication shall clearly state that this is a preliminary result.

3. After the completion of the procedures specified in points 1 and 2 of this article, the ballot papers are put in separate envelopes by electoral subjects, except for the contested ballot papers, whereas the invalid ballots are put in the envelope marked with "INVALID VOTES". The envelopes with the ballot papers for the electoral subjects, the envelope with the invalid ballot papers, the envelope with the contested ballot papers, and the envelope with the Record of Sealing, are put inside the ballot box. The box is sealed with seals with new security codes. The numbers of the codes are recorded in the table of results.

One copy of the Record of Sealing, together with the Record of the Closing of the Polls, is given to the CEAZ secretary, who is responsible for their administration. The box is sealed with seals with new security codes. A copy of the Record of Sealing is given also to observers from electoral subjects.

After that, in the case of local elections, the box is placed near the table of the Counting Team and the box with the ballot papers for the council is taken. In the case of local elections, for the ballot boxes with the ballot papers for the political parties or electoral coalitions, the Counting Team performs the same actions specified in articles 116 to 119 of this Code.

4. The Counting Team takes the ballot boxes with the ballot papers of the next voting centre from the stack of the ballot boxes only after it has sent the processed boxes to the designated place inside the room of the Ballot Counting Centre and has handed over the respective table of results for the counted voting centre to the CEAZ.

5. Counting continues uninterruptedly until the completion of counting of all ballot boxes received as regular by the CEAZ. Counting may be interrupted by a CEAZ decision only for reasons that do not depend on the election administration and that hamper the normal counting process. The reasons are justified in the CEAZ Meeting Records Book, including the decision to resume counting.

Order of counting for local government elections

1. For local government elections, the CEAZ groups the boxes by local government unit and by the respective body for each of the local government units. In elections for the local government bodies in Tirana, the boxes are grouped by the body for which has been voted.

2. In accordance with this Chapter, the counting process starts with the local government unit with the largest number of voters and continues in descending order. For each local government unit, the counting starts with the counting of the votes for the mayor and then with the counting of the votes for the respective council. In elections for local government units in Tirana, counting starts with the votes for the Mayor of the Municipality, then for the municipal council, next for the mayor of the borough, and finally with the votes for the borough council.

3. Vote count for one body shall not start unless all the ballot boxes for the preceding body are counted.

4. Upon completion of the counting of a box, the table of its results is filled in according to article 122 of this Code. The table of results for the voting centre also contains a column for votes for other bodies, but miscast in that box, which clearly specifies the number of miscast ballots in that box divided by the body for which the votes are cast.

* Amended by Law no. 74/2012, dated 19 July 2012.

5. When such ballots are found, the Counting Team sets them apart, folded, and does not evaluate them. At the conclusion of the counting for that box, these ballot papers are put in the envelope marked with "MISCAST VOTES" in separate envelopes for the body for which the votes were cast. The number of votes that are miscast for each of the other bodies found in that box is recorded in the special column of the table of results. The next box is opened only after procedures are completed and the previous box is sealed.

6. After the respective Counting Team completes the counting of the last box, the First Counter fills in the Record of Findings, writing down the number of miscast ballots for each body found in each envelope. The envelopes with the miscast votes are sealed and delivered to the CEAZ along with the Record of Findings. The CEAZ opens the envelopes, makes the relevant annotations in the Meeting Records Book, and places these votes in special boxes, without opening the ballot papers. These boxes are the same as the ballot boxes, and are opened and closed in accordance with the procedures for the ballot boxes specified in this Code. The CEAZ has one box for miscast votes for each body for which elections are held in its territory.

7. Upon completion of the counting of all boxes for one body, the CEAZ compiles the Preliminary Aggregate Table of Results for the EAZ reflecting the result for the body for each voting centre. This table does not include the result of the box with the votes for the relevant body which are cast in the wrong box, specified in point 8 of this article.

The result reflected in the Preliminary Aggregate Table of Results for the EAZ is not final. The table and any of its publications shall display the note that this result is not final.

8. At the conclusion of the vote counting for all ballot boxes of the EAZ, the CEAZ appoints immediately one of the Counting Teams to evaluate and count the votes cast in the wrong boxes for each body, administered according to this article. These votes are counted in accordance with the procedures specified in articles 116, 117 and 118 of this Code. The box with miscast ballots for one body is opened upon the completion of the counting of boxes for the respective body.

9. The result of the box is entered into a separate table of results for miscast votes, which specifies the body for which the votes are cast. The table is filled in and signed according to the procedures specified in article 119 of this Code.

10. Upon completion of the procedure specified in point 8 of this article, the CEAZ fills in the Aggregate Table of Election Results for that EAZ, reflecting the results of each counted box and the result of the box with miscast votes, filled in according to point 8 of this article.

Persons present during the vote counting process

1. Only the members and secretary of the CEAZ, the members of the Counting Teams, the candidates, observers of the electoral subjects, other accredited observers, accredited media representatives, and the technical personnel authorized by the CEC for the maintenance of the camera system, are to be present during the vote counting process at the Ballot Counting Centre.

2. The CEAZ takes measures and is responsible for not allowing persons other than those specified in point 1 of this article in the Ballot Counting Centre. When persons other than those specified in point 1 of this article are present, the CEAZ by decision immediately notifies the State Police officers and the case is recorded in the CEAZ Meeting Records Book, including the precise time of arrival and departure of the State Police officers.

Article 122*

Issuance of the Aggregate Table of Election Result by the CEAZ

1. The Aggregate Table of Election Result for the respective Electoral Administration Zone is issued by the CEAZ no later than 22⁰⁰ of the day following the Election Day.

2. Immediately after the completion of the counting, in accordance with the procedures provided for in articles 116 to 119 of this Code, the CEAZ completes the Aggregate Table of Election Results for the zone it administers, which reflects the results of each subject for each voting centre, based on the original tables of results of each voting centre filled in by the Counting Teams.

* Amended by Law no. 74/2012, dated 19 July 2012.

3. The Aggregate Table of Election Results of the EAZ is approved by the CEAZ by decision. If this is not the case, point 5 of article 35 of this Code shall apply. One copy of the Aggregate Table of Results and of the tables of results for each voting centre is immediately sent to the CEC, including by electronic means of communication.

4. Copies of the Aggregate Table of Election Results of the EAZ, of tables of results of the voting centres and of the Record of Findings are given to the members of the CEAZ and to the observers of electoral subjects, whereas their originals, stamps and any other voting materials are handed over to the CEC.

5. In the case of local elections, the CEAZ approves, by decision, the tables of results for each local government unit, in accordance with the same criteria and procedures specified in this article. The decision may be appealed in compliance with the procedures provided for in Part X of this Code.

6. For the election of the Mayor and the Municipal Council of the Municipality of Tirana, the CEAZ approves the Aggregate Table of Results of the Voting Centres belonging to the respective boroughs. The original of the Aggregate Table of Results and the Tables of Results for each voting centre are sent immediately to the CEC to issue the result, in accordance with article 123 of this Code.

Article 123*

Tabulation of results by the CEC

1. The CEC verifies and tabulates the election results for the electoral zone for the Assembly or local government unit, whose territory is divided into two or more EAZs, based on the table of results issued by each CEAZ of the respective electoral zone. For this purpose, the CEC fills in the Aggregate Table of Results for the Electoral Zone and approves it by a decision no later than 48 hours from the receipt of all the tables of the Electoral Zone.

2. Before filling in the Aggregate Table of Results for the Electoral Zone, according to point 1 of this article, the CEC verifies, on its own initiative or upon request of the parties and before making a decision according to this article, whether the tables of the EAZ results for the respective zone include all the tables of the voting centres of that zone. When the CEC finds that the table of results for one EAZ does not include the tables of all the voting centres of that EAZ, which boxes are received as regular, it orders the CEAZ to fill in immediately the table and resubmit it to the CEC within 24 hours. In case of failure to comply with this deadline, the table is filled in by the CEC. If the votes in a box which is received as regular are not counted, the CEC orders the initial counting of uncounted votes for the Voting Centre that is not included in the table of results. The deadline specified in point 1 of this article starts after the filling in of each table of results for the EAZ according to this point.

In any case, according to this article, the Aggregate Table of Results for the Electoral Zone shall not be approved by the CEC unless all the boxes received as regular according to this Code are counted; otherwise, the decision to approve the Aggregate Table of Results for the Electoral Zone, according to this article, shall be invalid.

3. If the CEC, during the compilation of the table according to point 1 of this article, upon its own initiative or upon request of the parties, notices discrepancies between the number of votes for the subjects in the table of results for the EAZ and the tables of results of the voting centres, it takes a decision to approve the Aggregate Table of Results with the corrected figures, based on the originals of the tables of the voting centres. One copy of the decision on the approval of the Aggregate Table of Results for the Electoral Zone is given to all electoral subjects that participated in elections in the respective electoral zone.

4. The CEC decision on the approval of the Aggregate Table of Results for the Electoral Zone, according to this article, may be appealed to the CEC itself in accordance with the procedures envisaged in Part X of this Code.

5. The CEAZ decision on the approval of the Aggregate Table of Results of the EAZ, any decision taken by the CEAZ during the procedure of the receiving of the election material and documentation from the VCC, as well as during the counting and tabulation of the voting result, are interim decisions and can be appealed to the CEC together with the complaint against the decision of the CEC on the approval of the Aggregate Table of Results for the Electoral Zone, taken in accordance with point 1 of this article.

PART X

The CEAZ decision on the declaration of election results for local government units under its jurisdiction, taken according to article 122 of this Code, may be appealed to the CEC no later than 5 days from the announcement of the decision for the approval of the Aggregate Table of Results for the Electoral Zone. The complaint specifies the Voting Centres for which the amendment of the result or invalidation is requested.

5. The right to complain, according to point 1 of this article, is also granted to those individuals or political parties whose requests for registering as an electoral subject have been refused, and to those subjects referred to in article 6 of this Code, complaining against the rejection of requests for accreditation as observers, when the accreditation of the observers is delegated to the CEAZs. The CEC decisions for the registration or rejection to register as an electoral subject, taken in accordance with Part IV of this Code, may be appealed to the Electoral College, in accordance with Chapter I, Part XI of this Code.

6. During the examination of the submitted administrative complaints, the CEC examines the entirety of the case therein, including the invalidation of elections in specific voting centres, but not limited to the object of the administrative complaint submitted by the electoral subject.

Article 125*

Calculation of deadlines

1. The deadlines, which are specified by hours in Parts X and XI of this Code, are calculated by excluding the hour in which the right to appeal or the administrative obligation arises. Whenever the deadlines in this Code are calculated in hours, the administrative body assigned by this Code is required to mark on an administrative act the hour when the act was announced. Otherwise, the deadline is calculated beginning at 8⁰⁰ of the following day.

2. The deadlines in this Part that are stated in days are calculated by excluding the day on which the right to appeal or the administrative obligation arises.

3. If the end of a deadline, according to point 2 of this article, falls outside the official working hours determined in the CEC decision, then the running of the time is suspended at the close of the official working hours and resumes at the starting time of the official working hours of the following day.

1. The CEC, upon its own initiative or upon the request of electoral subjects, shall declare elections invalid in one or more voting centres when:
- a) there have been violations of the law, which have seriously affected the electoral process, or when the entirety of the violations of the law in those voting centres, in accordance with this point, may have affected the electoral process to such an extent that the allocation of seats in the electoral zone may have been affected;
 - b) there have been natural disasters of such proportions that the participation of voters in the voting has been hindered; or
 - c) voting has not begun or has been suspended for more than five hours.

* Amended by Law no. 74/2012, dated 19 July 2012.

3. A request for the invalidation of elections shall include the legal causes, a description of cases of violation, and a detailed reasoning of their consequence.

4. Requests are examined in accordance with the procedures specified in Part X of this Code. In taking a decision on the invalidity of elections, the CEC may consult with the respective CEAZ. The legal causes, the proved cases of violations, and the detailed reasoning of their consequence shall be described in the reasoning of the CEC decision.

Article 161*

Repetition of elections

1. After the completion of the appeals process, no later than three days from the tabulation of the result of the electoral zone, the CEC, upon its own initiative or upon a request of the subject, declares elections invalid and orders their repetition in an entire electoral zone, if the invalidation that is declared for one or more voting centres, in accordance with article 160 of this Code, impacts the allocation of seats in the electoral zone or nationwide.

2. A case when the number of voters who have voted or could have voted in the voting centre or centres declared invalid is equal to or larger than the number of voters required for the allocation of one seat in the respective electoral zone, based on the calculation of valid votes in the electoral zone, performed in accordance with article 162, shall be considered an impact on the allocation of seats for the elections to the Assembly. For elections of a mayor of a local government unit, a case when the number of voters in centres declared invalid is larger than the difference between the two candidates who have received the highest number of valid votes shall be considered an impact on the result.

3. In the event of invalidation due to a natural disaster, in accordance with letter “b”, or failure to start the voting or its suspension for more than five hours, in accordance with letter “c” of point 1 of article 160, the total number of the voters registered in the voting centre that was declared invalid is taken into consideration.

4. In the event of invalidation due to violations of the law, in accordance with letter “a” of point 1 of article 160, or when the voting is declared invalid in accordance with the second paragraph of point 4 of article 138 of this Code, and in the event the voting process has ended in accordance with this Code, the number of the voters who have voted in the voting centre that was declared invalid is taken into consideration when determining the impact.

5. A repetition of the elections is ordered by the same decision of the CEC that declares them invalid. Elections for local government councils shall not be repeated.

6. The repetition of elections shall take place no later than 4 weeks from the date of the decision.

7. An appeal against a CEC decision whether or not to declare elections invalid is made in accordance with the deadlines and procedures set in this Part.

PART XII

ALLOCATION OF SEATS

CHAPTER I

SEATS FOR THE ASSEMBLY

Article 162

Calculation of seats of the electoral subjects

1. No later than 3 days from the completion of the appeals process against a decision on the approval of results of the electoral zone or the invalidation of elections, in accordance with this Code, the CEC calculates the allocation of seats for each electoral zone based on the number of valid votes obtained by the subjects in the electoral zone. For elections to the Assembly, parties that run on their own and that have obtained less than 3 per cent, and coalitions that have obtained less than 5 per cent of the valid votes in the respective electoral zone are excluded from the allocation of seats.

2. The number of valid votes in the electoral zone for each subject is divided continuously by consecutive natural numbers, called denominators, starting with the number 1 and ending with the natural number that corresponds to the number of seats allocated to the respective electoral zone. The step from one denominator to the next is 1. If the quotient obtained through the division is a number with a decimal remainder, the nearest whole number shall be considered as the quotient.

3. When the electoral subject is a candidate proposed by the voters, his/her votes are divided only by the denominator 1.

4. The quotients obtained through each division, including also the result of point 3 of this article, are placed on a list ranked from the largest quotient to the smallest one, listing alongside them the subject to which the respective quotient belongs. If the quotient is a number with a decimal remainder, the nearest whole number shall be considered as the quotient. The ranking continues until as many quotients as the number of seats to be allocated in the respective electoral zone are ranked.

5. An electoral subject shall be allocated the number of seats equal to the number of quotients included in the list specified in point 4 of this article. If there are two or more electoral subjects with the same quotient for the allocation of the last seat in the list specified in point 4 of this article, the seat is allocated to the subject that has obtained the largest number of votes and, if they have obtained the same number of votes, then it shall be decided by lot among those subjects. The lot is drawn publicly at the CEC in the presence of the interested subjects.

Allocation of seats within a coalition

1. Immediately after the completion of the calculation of the result in accordance with article 162 of this Code, the CEC calculates the allocation of seats within a coalition for each electoral zone, based on the number of valid votes won by each member party of the coalition in the respective electoral zone and on the number of seats won by the coalition in the respective electoral zone.

2. The number of valid votes for each party is divided continuously by odd natural numbers, called denominators, starting with number 1 and by ending with the natural number that corresponds to the double of the number of seats allocated to the respective electoral zone. If the quotient obtained through the division is a number with a decimal remainder, the closest whole number shall be considered the quotient.

3. The quotients obtained through each division are placed on a list ranked from the largest quotient to the smallest one, listing alongside them the subject to which the respective quotient belongs. If the quotient is a number with a decimal remainder, the nearest whole number shall be considered as the quotient. The ranking continues until as many quotients as the number of seats to be allocated within the coalition in the respective electoral zone are ranked.

4. A political party shall be allocated a number of seats equal to the number of quotients included in the list defined in point 3 of this article. If there are two or more subjects with the same quotient for the allocation of the last seat in the list defined in point 3 of this article, the seat is allocated to the subject that has obtained the largest number of votes and, if they have obtained the same number of votes, then it shall be decided by lot among those parties. The lot is drawn publicly at the CEC in the presence of the interested subjects.

5. Immediately after the completion of the procedures for the allocation of seats to each political party in accordance with this article, the CEC determines the nominal seats for each political party based on the ranking of the candidates in the list deposited in accordance with point 4 of article 67 of this Code, in a descending order, starting from the ordinal number one.

6. A party Chair who has been registered on more than one list, in accordance with point 3 of article 67 of this Code, and who has won a seat in more than one electoral zone, keeps only the seat won in the electoral zone where the winning list has received the smallest number of votes, in accordance with the calculations of articles 162 and 163 of this Code. The other seats won by the party's Chair shall be allocated to the other candidates who rank immediately after him/her on the respective multi-name list.

7. The allocation of seats for each electoral zone, in accordance with article 162 and this article, is approved by a decision. The decision is taken separately for each electoral zone. The decision may be appealed to the Electoral College, in accordance with the procedures of Part XI of this Code, by the subjects provided for in point 1 of article 124, including also the candidates of the multi-name list.

Interruption of a mandate and filling in the vacancy

1. The mandate of a deputy, won in accordance with articles 162 and 163 of this Code, may be interrupted only for the reasons provided for in article 71 of the Constitution. Preliminary individual or collective agreements or declarations to withdraw from a seat do not constitute reasons for the interruption of the mandate. In the case of letters "a" and "b" of point 2 of article 71 of the Constitution, the deputy declares publicly, in front of the respective Assembly's committee, his/her refusal to take the oath or his/her withdrawal from the seat. In this case, the Assembly notifies the CEC of the creation of the vacancy within 30 days.

2. The interrupted mandate is transferred to the next candidate on the list of the same political party in the respective electoral zone. As an exception to this rule, when the vacancy arises from an interrupted mandate won in accordance with point 6 of article 67, it is filled with the first candidate in the list belonging to the respective gender, regardless of the ranking in the list. The other names belonging to that gender go up in the list taking the ranking of the preceding candidate belonging to the same gender. This rule does not apply when the names from the respective gender have been exhausted.

3. The CEC decides on giving the mandate to the next candidate in the list of candidates registered in accordance with article 67 of this Code. The decision is notified to the candidate and published on the Official Journal. In the event the next candidate in the list fails to report to the Assembly within 30 days from the notification, without any justified reason, the mandate passes to the next candidate in the list, in accordance with the procedure specified in points 1 or 2 of this article. The same procedure is followed until the exhaustion of the list of candidates of the same political party.

4. When the list of candidates of a political party that is a member of a coalition is exhausted, the seat passes to the party of the coalition that has the largest quotient. When the interrupted mandate belongs to a candidate proposed by the voters, the seat passes to the electoral subject with the largest quotient. When the interrupted mandate belongs to an electoral coalition, the seat is allocated to the party member of the coalition with the largest quotient.

COUNTING AND EVALUATION OF BALLOTS THROUGH THE ELECTRONIC COUNTING SYSTEM (ECS)

Section 1 – Scope

1. The scope of this Annex is to specify the basic requirements for the Electronic Counting System (ECS) and the procedure to be followed at the ballot counting centre where the ECS will be applied.

2. The CEC specifies by a normative act the rules related to the verification of the ECS accuracy at the counting centre, use and administration of the ECS, as well as counting procedures and evaluation of ballot papers through the ECS, including the tabulation of the result and administration of any data produced by the ECS.

3. The normative act of the CEC may change any of the procedures envisaged in this Annex, if it will result in the optimisation of the ECS, but in any case without affecting the principles envisaged in Section 2 of this Annex.

Section 2 - Electronic Counting System (ECS)

1. The Electronic Counting System (ECS) consists of the entirety of electronic and computer equipment and various computing programmes, through which the counting and evaluation of ballot papers, as well as the tabulation of the electoral result is done automatically and independently.

2. The ECS shall guarantee that:

a) it counts each ballot paper consecutively and without damaging it;

b) the processing of ballots by the device can be observed with a naked eye;

c) the evaluation of the ballot paper is carried out one time only, regardless of the number of scans run on the ballot paper;

ç) it counts and evaluates the ballots regardless of the type of the body for which they are cast;

d) both sides of the ballots are scanned;

dh) it automatically calculates the election result for the relevant voting centre and the EAZ;

- e) it processes and saves the data of the scanned ballots, grouped by voting centre;
- ë) it saves the image of each scanned ballot paper;
- f) it physically separates the evaluated ballot papers from unevaluated ones;

- i) it saves all decision-making records and any data processed by the ECS for six months from the end of the elections, in accordance with the specifications of the normative act of the CEC. The processed data and the image of the ballots scanned in ECS are used for administrative investigation during the phase of the examination of appeals.

Section 3 – Preliminary testing of ECS

1. The CEC fully tests the functioning of the ECS by simulating a real counting no later than 90 days before the election date, in the presence of representatives of political parties, observers and the media. The CEC drafts a report regarding the conducted test, which is discussed in a public session. In the event that the report indicates technical deficiencies, they shall be repaired before the election date in accordance with the deadline set by the CEC.

2. The normative act on the use of the ECS shall also provide for technical causes which affect the integrity and functioning of the ECS, in accordance with this Code. In this case, the CEC, by a decision approved with no less than 4 votes “in favour”, decides to apply the manual counting. For this purpose, the CEC may require the completion of an independent audit by a specialised entity, which submits a report to the CEC no later than 75 days before the election date.

3. The economic operator that has been selected to implement the ECS, in accordance with this Code, shall fully co-operate with the auditing entity and provide all the information requested by the auditor, with the scope of evaluating the integrity of the ECS. The auditing entity shall preserve the secrecy of the commercial data learned during the audit. This obligation is not applicable in its relations with the CEC.

Section 4 – Persons responsible for the counting and the supervision of the process

1. The responsibility to manage the ECS rests only with the technical staff of the ECS. The technical staff of the ECS are fully responsible for the administration of the ECS equipment, the opening and closing of the ballot boxes, the extraction and arrangement of all the ballot papers for evaluation in the equipment, entering of any data or decisions of the CEAZ in the ECS, as well as other tasks envisaged in this Code or in the normative act of the CEC.

The staff do not take any decisions regarding the process or the evaluation of ballots. The operator in charge with implementing the ECS is responsible for the recruitment and training of the technical staff. The selection of the staff is made jointly with the CEC in accordance with the procedures envisaged in the normative act of the CEC.

2. The ballot counting process is led and overseen by the CEAZ. The CEAZ is fully responsible for supervising the actions of the ECS staff, decision-making regarding the ballot papers which have not been evaluated by the ECS, the checking of the recording of each data in the ECS, and the signing of the tables of results, in accordance with the provisions of this Code. For a better supervision of the process, the CEAZ may be divided into several two-member teams, while preserving at all times the political balance of the CEAZ.

3. The CEAZ assigns four representatives of electoral subjects who are in charge only of the verification of the materials in the ballot box, pursuant to the procedures set forth in article 116/1 of the Code. In each ballot counting centre, a special table is organized only for this purpose. The party proposing the Chair of the CEAZ proposes one representative and the party proposing the Deputy Chair of the CEAZ proposes another representative. The two other representatives are proposed respectively by the majority and minority party that have the right to propose members to the CEAZ, except for the parties which propose the Chair and the Deputy Chair. The persons are assigned by the CEAZ no later than 5 days before the election date.

4. The observers of electoral subjects stay in front of the tables where the counting device is placed and of the table of the verification of voting materials, at a small distance from the working tables and in front of the ECS screens. The observers shall not have physical contact with the voting materials and the ECS equipment; however, they shall have full access to watch the actions of the ECS staff without obstacles. The observers have the right to put forward their remarks to the CEAZ, which is obliged to record them in the CEAZ Meeting Records Book.

Section 5 – Verification of the ECS accuracy at the counting centre (“a posteriori” verification)

1. Before the start of the counting of ballots, in accordance with Section 6, the CEAZ orders the making of the ECS accuracy verification. For this purpose, for each counting device, after the counting of the first two boxes is completed, in accordance with the ECS counting procedures, these boxes are subject to manual recounting. The rules and procedures to be followed for the verification of the ECS accuracy are specified in the normative act issued by the CEC in accordance with point 2 of Section 1 of this Annex.

2. Recounting is carried out by the ECS staff, under the supervision of the CEAZ, only for the ballots “evaluated by the ECS”.

3. If the result of the manual recounting is the same as the one issued by the ECS, or if the difference between the two counts is smaller than 0.5 per cent, then the counting continues normally, in accordance with Section 6 of this Annex.

4. In the event that the discrepancy between the result generated by the ECS and the result of the manual counting is more than 0.5 per cent, the CEAZ orders the suspension of the counting for that device. The finding is noted in the Meeting Records Book and the CEAZ immediately notifies the CEC.

5. In the event that the same discrepancy is found for all the ECS devices in that CEAZ, the counting is suspended until the CEC takes a decision. The decision of the CEC is taken no later than two hours from receiving notification from the CEAZ.

6. Upon receiving the notification and verifying the problem, the CEC orders the manual counting of ballots, specifying the time of start and the arrangement of the hall for manual counting, in accordance with the procedures and criteria for manual counting as envisaged in this Code and in the secondary legislation.

Section 6 – Counting of ballot papers

1. The ballot counting starts upon a decision of the CEAZ, after all the boxes of voting centres under the jurisdiction of the CEAZ have been received. The ECS staff, one after the other and only in ascending order of the ordinal numbers of the voting centres, starting from the voting centre with the smallest number, take from the stack of the ballot boxes the ballot boxes with the ballot papers of only one voting centre. Then the staff put the box on the table and open it by breaking the seals with the security codes.

2. For the local elections, the ballot box of a voting centre for political parties and/or electoral coalitions is counted together with the box with the ballot papers for candidates for mayors of local government units of that voting centre. The counting is carried out consecutively, starting with the box for the mayor of the local government unit. The ECS staff take out the Record of the Closing of the Polls from the box and enter on the ECS the data on the voter turnout, ballot papers distributed in the voting centre, the damaged ballot papers, and the unused ballot papers. The entry of the data is done under the supervision of at least two CEAZ members, who have the right to closely observe the Record of the Closing of the Polls.

3. The CEAZ shall be informed in case the Record of the Closing of the Polls is not found in the ballot box or the data on the number of voters who have voted, ballot papers delivered in the voting centre, unused ballot papers and damaged ballot papers have not been entered in the Record of the Closing of the Polls. The CEAZ orders the ECS technical staff to close the ballot box, to fill in the Record of Findings for this fact, noting down the closing seals, to leave aside the ballot box/es of that voting centre until the verification and filling in of the Record of Findings, in accordance with the procedures of point 3 of article 116/1 of this Code, and to open the box of voting materials of that voting centre.

4. Then, the ECS staff take the box with the voting materials and put it on the special table for the verification of the voting material by the representatives of the subjects specified, in accordance with point 3 of Section 4 of this Annex. The representatives of the subjects carry out the procedures envisaged in article 116/1 of this Code.

5. When the voting material is subject to verification procedures, the ballot box/es of the voting centre is left aside in the place predefined by the CEAZ and the counting continues with the consecutive voting centre, guaranteeing uninterrupted counting of the ballot boxes. Once the voting material is verified, the data entered in the Record of Findings are submitted to the CEAZ, which orders their immediate entering in the ECS by the ECS staff. Then the counting of the ballot papers shall start immediately, by opening the box with the ballot papers from that voting centre.

6. The ECS staff take the ballot papers out of the boxes, unfold them, placing them on the table, one on top of the other, with the reverse side of the ballot facing up. If miscast ballots are found during the process, they are separated, grouped and stacked according to the respective categories of the bodies for which is being voted, in accordance with the specification in the normative act of the CEC. Then the ECS staff group, stack and put them in the optical counting device, with the purpose of the counting and evaluation of the ballots by the device itself, in accordance with the procedures envisaged in the normative act of the CEC. Following counting and evaluation, the ballot papers are put inside the relevant envelopes by the ECS staff, in accordance with the procedures envisaged in this Code.

7. With the objective of optimizing the ballot counting process, the CEC, by a normative act, may decide to have at least four boxes counted consecutively by the same counting device, applying the same procedures used for the opening of the ballot box. The normative act shall specify the procedures and actions to be carried out by the ECS staff regarding the sorting, grouping, arranging and counting of the ballot papers of the ballot boxes by the same device without interruption. The table of results for each counted box is printed following the completion of the counting and evaluation of all ballot papers of the four boxes. The normative act of the CEC also specifies the manner of handling, arranging and putting the ballot papers inside special envelopes following the counting process. The ballots, which are scanned and separated by the ECS, are put inside special envelopes, in accordance with the specification of point 12 of Section 7 of this Annex, and are enclosed inside the relevant box in accordance with the specifications of the CEC.

8. Independent of whether the CEC has taken a decision, in accordance with point 7 of this Section, in any case, the last four boxes of the EAZ for each counting device are counted without issuing the relevant table of results of the box. The table of results for these boxes is compiled and printed only after the completion of the counting and evaluation of all ballot papers of all four boxes. The CEC, by a normative act, specifies the actions to be carried out by the ECS staff, the CEAZ, as well as the manner of handling, arranging and putting the ballots inside special envelopes following the counting process.

Section 7 - Evaluation of votes and issuance of the result through the ECS

1. The counting and evaluation of the votes is done according to the criteria envisaged in article 117 of this Code and is accomplished automatically by the ECS, which separates the votes physically into “evaluated by the ECS” and “contested by the ECS”.

2. The ballot papers “contested by the ECS” are ballots for which the ECS is not able to accurately determine the voter’s intent, which are not read by the ECS because they do not contain the technical elements and form adopted in the normative act of the CEC, or because they are physically damaged. Their evaluation is done by the CEAZ.

3. The CEAZ is notified by the raising of the hand by the ECS staff, without moving from the spot, or, depending on the case, by a member of the CEAZ, after the evaluation of the other ballots of the box by the ECS is completed. The raising of the hand suspends any further action of the ECS staff until the CEAZ examines and evaluates the ballot papers. The image of the ballot is displayed on the screen for evaluation by the CEAZ, as well as for examination by the observers. The evaluation of these votes is done through a decision of the CEAZ.

4. The CEAZ evaluates the votes “contested by the ECS” through the examination of the electronic image saved in the ECS for each of such votes, as well as the physical examination of the ballots, which have not been read by the ECS, in accordance with point 2 of this Section. The ECS enables the physical separation of the unread ballots from the other ballots contested by the ECS.

5. The CEAZ, after examining the ballots, decides on their evaluation and orders the inclusion of the evaluation, in accordance with article 117 of the Code, in the relevant columns of the ECS by the technical staff. The evaluation done by the ECS staff is displayed on the screen for the observers of the electoral subjects.

6. The ballots evaluated by the CEAZ are noted digitally in the ECS as "ballot evaluated by the CEAZ" and are saved electronically in a special column. If the evaluation is contested by at least one member of the CEAZ, the note "ballot contested by the CEAZ" is made in the ECS. The ECS enables the electronic saving of the image of these ballots in a special column called "Ballots Contested by the CEAZ". If a need arises, the CEAZ may physically examine the ballots placed in the envelope of the ballot papers contested by the ECS.

7. The ballots unread by the ECS are physically examined by the CEAZ in order to check whether they are ballot papers, according to the form and content specified by the CEC, or whether the ballot paper is damaged at such extent that it cannot be scanned by the ECS. If the ballot paper is damaged, it is calculated in the total of ballots used in the voting and is evaluated by the CEAZ, in accordance with the criteria envisaged in article 117 of the Code and in the normative act of the CEC.

8. The data and the image of the ballot are entered in the ECS by the technical staff, in accordance with the procedures specified in the normative act. Any other ballot, which does not have the form, size and technical characteristics approved by the CEC, is not calculated in the total ballots used in the voting and this fact is noted in the Record of Findings by the CEAZ.

9. Following the counting of all the ballots in the box, the ECS staff check the data under the supervision of the CEAZ and, if there is no objection, confirm them. The data are also displayed simultaneously on the screen for the observers. If observers have objections, the CEAZ is informed about the problem and notes the objections in the Meeting Records Book. The CEAZ takes a decision and then orders the tabulation of results.

10. If the ECS finds a difference between the counted ballots and the data entered in the system on voter turnout, according to the Record of the Closing of the Polls or, as the case may be, in the Record of Findings, the technical staff inform the CEAZ. The discrepancy is noted in the Record of Findings by the CEAZ, which then orders the compilation of the table. The table is compiled and printed by the ECS with the note “discrepancy”. If any of the observers has a remark, it is noted by the ECS staff before the table of results is printed.

11. The table of results of the counted box is immediately printed by the ECS in several copies, signed by the technical staff of the ECS and the CEAZ, and then stamped with the CEAZ stamp. One copy of the table is given to the observers of electoral subjects or the accredited observers, and one copy is administered by the CEAZ secretary. The data of the results are saved in the system and transmitted electronically to the CEC, which publishes them immediately. The format of the table of results is specified in the normative act of the CEC.

12. Following the completion of the procedures envisaged in points 1 to 11 of this Section, the ballots evaluated as valid are put inside the envelope with the note “VOTES EVALUATED BY THE ECS,” whereas the votes contested by the ECS and evaluated by the CEAZ are put inside the envelope with the note “VOTES CONTESTED BY THE ECS.” These two envelopes, together with the envelope of the Record of Sealing, are placed inside the ballot box. One copy of the Record of Sealing, together with the Record of the Closing of the Polls, is submitted to the CEAZ secretary, who is in charge of their administration. The box is closed with seals with new security codes. One copy of the Record of Sealing is given to the observers of the electoral subjects.

13. The boxes counted in accordance with this Section are sent to the specified place within the hall of the Ballot Counting Centre. The counting process continues without interruption until all boxes considered as regular by the CEAZ are counted. The counting process is interrupted through a decision of the CEAZ only for reasons which do not depend on the election administration or that obstruct the normal counting process. The reasons are explained in the CEAZ Meeting Records Book.

14. Pursuant to article 122 of this Code, the Aggregate Table of Election Results of the EAZ is compiled automatically and printed by the ECS. The CEC specifies, by a normative act, the format and procedure to be followed in this case.

15. Upon their request, one copy of the documentation produced in accordance with letter “i” of point 2 of Section 2 of this Annex, and a copy of the images in “read-only” format for each scanned ballot of each voting centre, is given to the electoral subjects or the observers accredited by the CEC, following the issuance of the result of the electoral zone, no later than 48 hours from the request, against the fee covering the reproduction cost. The fee is specified by a decision of the CEC.

ANNEX III

USE OF TECHNOLOGY FOR THE VERIFICATION AND REGISTRATION OF VOTER PARTICIPATION ON VOTING DAY (EVS)

Section 1 – Scope

1. An electronic integrated system for the verification and registration of voter participation on the voting day (EVS) is established in order to verify and register the participation of voters on the voting date. The technical solution shall integrate all the necessary elements, including equipment, programmes, respective licenses or certificates to guarantee a secure and easy use.

2. Technical characteristics of the system, equipment, procedures for the functioning of the technology, form of communication with the central computer unit, reporting format, form of distribution, delivery, administration of the device in the voting centre and the entry of data from the voting centre devices into the CEC, system administration rules, as well as every issue related to the use of the EVS, are specified by a normative act of the CEC.

3. The normative act of the CEC may amend any of the procedures envisaged in this Annex, if it affects the optimization of the EVS, but in any case without affecting the principles envisaged in Section 2.

Section 2 – Voter Verification and Registration Electronic System (EVS)

1. The Electronic System for the Verification and registration of voter participation on the voting day (EVS) consists of:

- a) the central computer unit installed at the CEC;
- b) the entirety of equipment used for electronic reading of the content of the identification document, used at the voting centre; and
- c) any technical device or programme related to them.

2. The device used in the voting centre functions in an independent manner from the central unit, reading the content of the identification document with biometric data. The technical criteria and procedures are specified in the normative act of the CEC.

3. The device used in the voting centre automatically reads and registers the information contained in the circuit with contact and/

or without contact of the identification document. The first name, surname, date of birth, personal identification number, and the identification document number are the data which are read.

4. The device used in the voting centre shall guarantee:

a) a minimum intervention, by the person in charge of operating it, in order to function;

b) a high level of protection and safety against attempts of illegal outside tampering;

c) that the data read from the identification document are saved in its electronic memory;

ç) that the data read from the identification documents are not registered in a chronological order during the voting day;

d) that it registers the data of an identification document only once, regardless of the number of times the machine reads the document.

5. The final technical characteristics and the specifications regarding the devices, and the method of operation and control are determined in the normative act of the CEC.

6. The EVS shall be able to remotely check the state of functioning of the device throughout the voting day in each voting centre where the EVS is applied.

Section 3 – Use of reading devices in the voting centre and staff

1. As a rule, each voting centre shall be equipped with a device for the electronic reading of the identification document. The deployment of the EVS and the specification of the voting centres in which the EVS may not be used for technical reasons, are determined by the CEC no later than 30 days before the Election Day.

2. Upon closing of the voting, the device transmits only the full number of documents read in the voting centre. The full data for each document read in the respective voting centre are downloaded from the electronic memory of the device and are entered in the central system immediately upon their arrival at the CEC. The entry of data in the system is done under the supervision of the CEC auditors. The procedures and criteria for entering the data in the central system are determined in the normative act of the CEC.

3. In the event that the device does not work, the voting takes place without interruption, in accordance with the procedures envisaged in article 105 of this Code, recording the number of the identification document on the voter list of the voting centre. The fact that the device is not working is recorded in the Meeting Records Book of the voting centre, the respective CEAZ is also notified and it [CEAZ] reflects this fact on its Meeting Records Book. When the device resumes work, the process continues by using the device for the verification and registration of the voter participation. The procedures of communicating, replacing and reporting, according to this point, are determined in the normative act of the CEC.

4. The devices are administered and used only by the CEC specialized and authorized staff. The operator in charge of the EVS's operation is responsible for the recruitment and training of the technical staff, according to the procedures determined in the normative act of the CEC and in the manuals approved by the CEC. Upon completion of voting, the devices are sent to the CEC. The procedures, deadlines and actions for handing over, transporting, installing, and verifying the functioning of the electronic devices in the voting centre, by the staff responsible for using them, are specified in the normative act of the CEC.

5. The data downloaded from the electronic memory of the device are administered by the CEC for administrative investigation purposes, in compliance with articles 136 or 138 of this Code. The discrepancy of the data transmitted in the EVS does not constitute grounds for complaint according to Part X of this Code.

Section 4 – Data processing, reports and system administration

1. Immediately after the completion of the voting process countrywide, and based on the data transmitted by the devices used in the voting centre, the central unit produces a report on the centres where the system failed to function for a part of or the entire voting time, as well as the number of documents read for each voting centre. The reporting format is specified in the normative act of the CEC.

2. After downloading the data from the voting centre's reading device into the CEC, the central unit produces a report, in case it is found that the data from the same document is registered more than once, as well as it generates specific reports related to them. The format is specified in a normative act of the CEC. The report does not contain details about the identity of individual voters. This report is provided only to the CEC members through the auditors.

3. Access to the central unit is allowed only for the authorized technical staff, the CEC technical auditors, appointed according to article 61 of this Code, and the CEC members, who are provided with the respective access certificates. The CEC technical auditors have full rights to check every action performed in the system, the entry of any data from the electronic memory of each reading device used in the voting centre in the central unit at the CEC, including the methodology for generating the reports specified in this Section. The CEC approves the rules of procedure for the administration of the EVS and the rules for access rights to the system for the persons specified in this Section by at least 5 votes “in favour” of its members.

4. In addition to the auditors appointed in accordance with article 61 of this Code, the CEC may select a company for the external auditing of the system’s security and functioning. The auditing and reporting take place no later than 60 days before the Election Day. The audit report is reviewed by the CEC in a public hearing.

5. The data processed and entered from the devices into the CEC, after the closing of the polls, are retained in the CEC for a period of 6 months from the election date, and are subject to a full audit by the CEC immediately after the declaration of the final result. The auditors present a final report to the CEC on the completed audit within 30 days from the declaration of the final result. If evidence is found during the audit of illegal tampering with the system or of voting more than once, the CEC is obliged to press criminal charges.

6. The data processed and saved in the system are handled according to the legislation on the protection of personal data. The notification of the voter, according to article 52 of this Code, contains also information on the data to be processed from the voter identification document and that the exercising of the right to vote is considered as consent given for such data to be processed by the device.

7. The report compiled according to point 1 of this Section is generated immediately after the closing of the polls countrywide, and is presented to the CEC members by the technical auditors no later than 24 hours from the closing of the polls. One copy of the report is given to the representatives of the electoral subjects at the CEC, upon their request, within 24 hours from the request, and is also posted on the CEC website.

Section 5 – Procedures at the voting centre

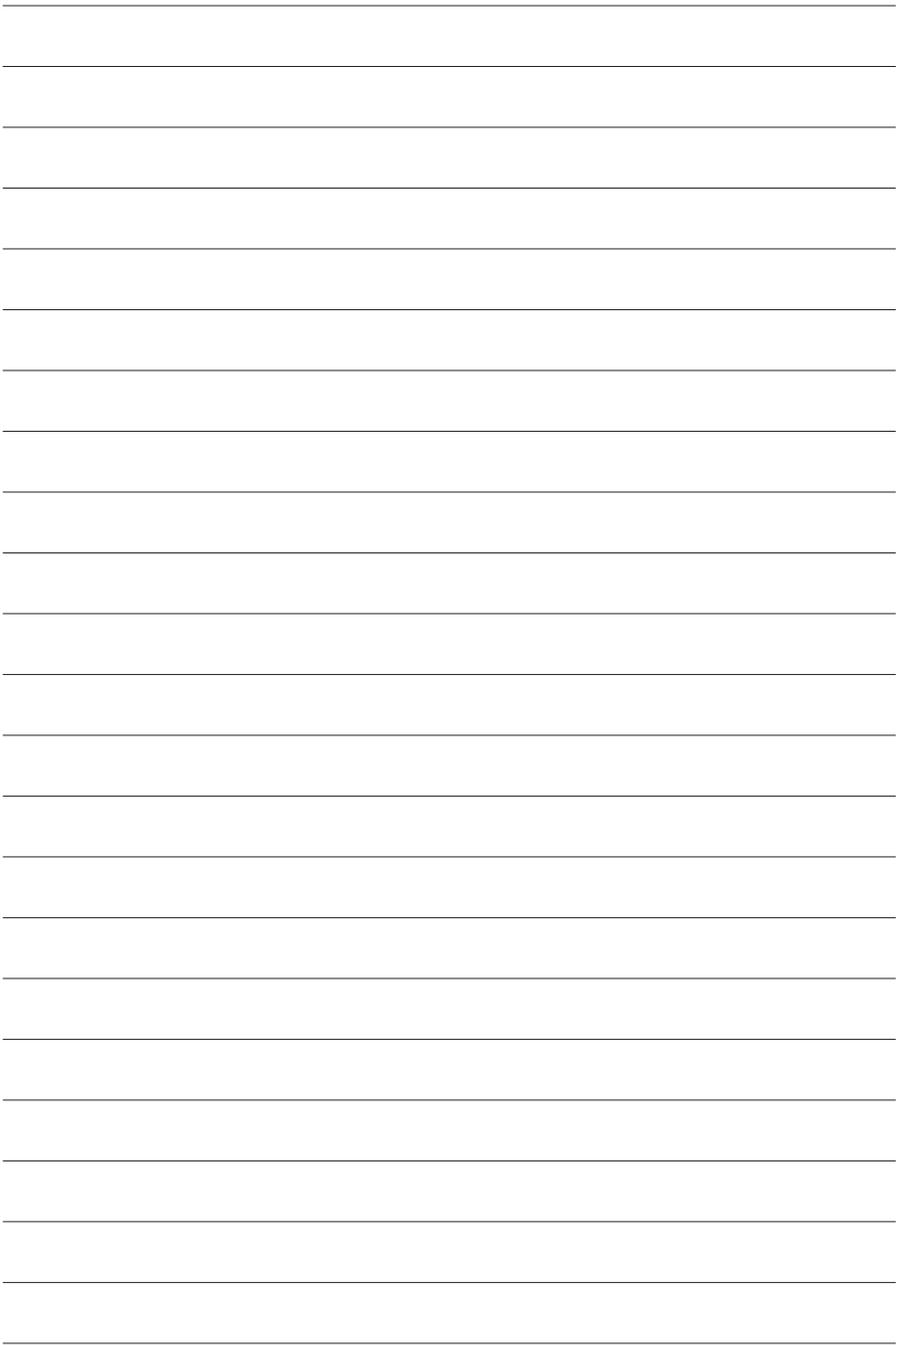

1. Following the procedures on voter presentation at the voting centre specified in article 105 of this Code, and immediately after performing the actions specified in letter “c” of point 1 of article 105, the VCC Chair identifies the voter through the identification document, finds the name on the voter list, and hands over the identification document to the person in charge of reading and registering it through the electronic device. The person in charge places the respective identification document on the reading device for reading the data of the identification document. A voter is allowed to vote only after the identification document is registered.

2. In cases when the device does not work, as specified in point 3 of Section 3 of this Annex to the Code, voting starts and/or is conducted without interruption, regardless of the device’s failure, and the voter is allowed to vote regularly and without any obstacle.

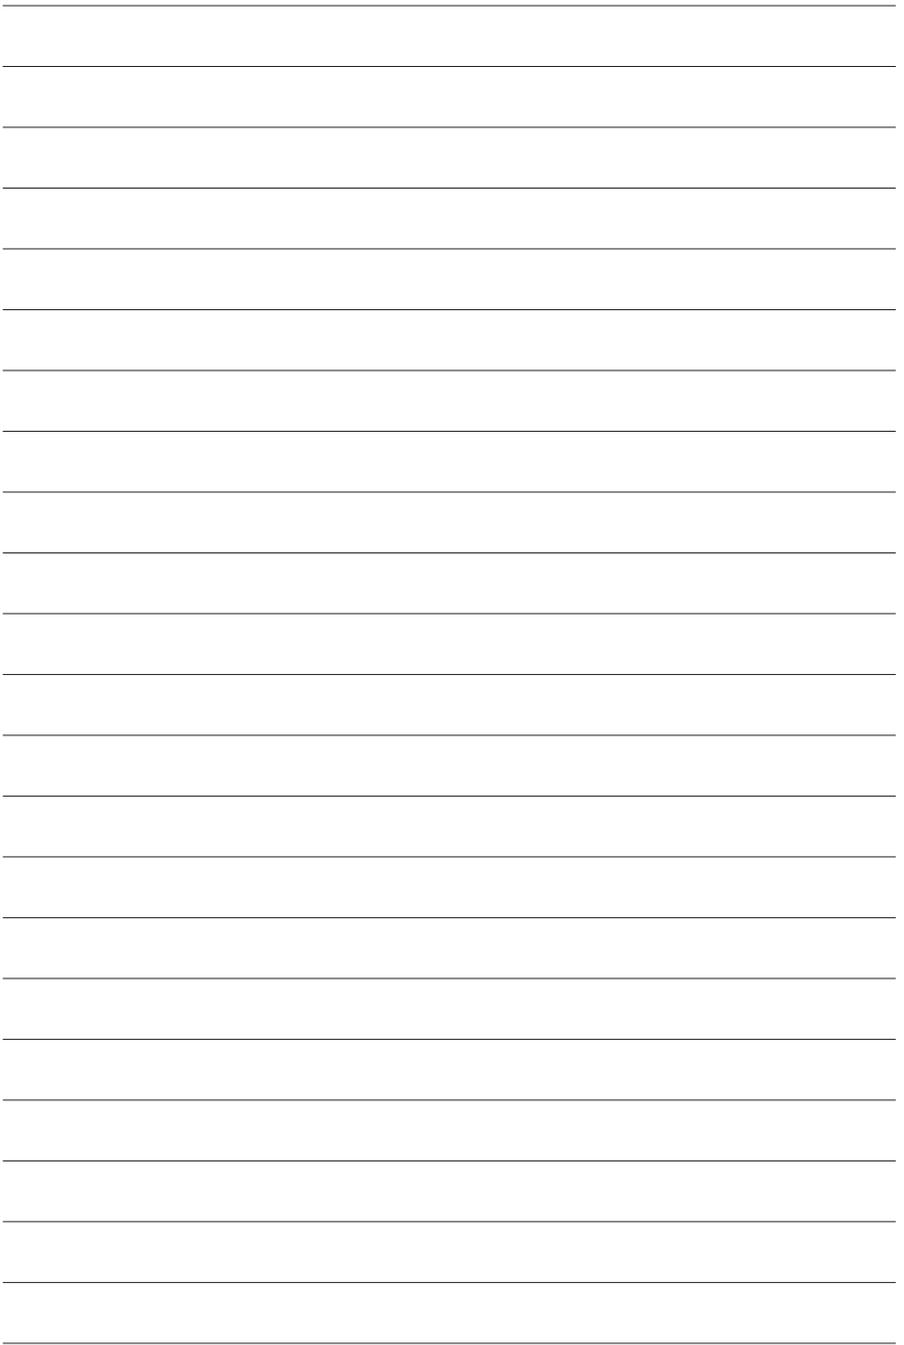

3. The VCC and the technical staff are responsible for fulfilling this obligation. The technical staff take full legal responsibility for administering the device and for registering every identification document on the device.

4. For purposes of letter “a” of point 1 of article 113 of this Code, on determining the number of voters who have voted, this figure is determined based on the number of documents read by the reading device in the voting centre. When the device has not worked, as specified in point 3 of Section 3 of this Annex, the number of voters is determined based on the number of signatures on the voter list. The Record of the Closing of the Polls, in addition to the VCC members, is signed also by the EVS technical staff.

5. The actions of the technical staff before, during and after the voting process are specified in the normative act of the CEC.
