

Sub-regions hosting IDPs as of Dec 2011
 In closed camps: 19,986
 In transit sites: 9,325
 In active camps: 465

At the peak of displacement (2005) it was estimated that between 300,000 and 600,000 people fled to urban areas of Northern Uganda, Masindi, Kampala and Jinja.

Conflict-induced internal displacement in Uganda (May 2012)

- Legend
- Capital
 - Town, village
 - International boundary
 - Sub-regional boundary
 - Sub-regions hosting IDPs as of December 2011
 - Districts where displacement has occurred in the past / return areas
 - Sub-regions at risk of displacement

The boundaries and names shown and the designations used on this map do not imply official endorsement or acceptance by IDMC. Data does not include sporadic patterns of displacement caused by natural disasters. Figures source: UNHCR