People currently displaced

61,200People reported to have returned

OVERVIEW

The onset of military operations in Northeast Syria by the Turkish army and allied non-state groups on 9 October has forced huge numbers of people to flee their homes. Around 139,265 remain displaced as of 25 October, and an additional 61,200 people were displaced and have since returned. Of those currently displaced, 122,384 are from Al Hassakeh and Ar Raqqa, and 16,881 are from Aleppo. Displaced people are finding shelter with friends and family and also in informal settlements and collective shelters. There are 69 such shelters in Al Hasakeh Governorate alone. Over 10,000 people have reportedly been displaced into neighboring Iraq. Prior to 9 October, Northeast Syria already hosted a total of 710,000 people displaced from earlier phases of the conflict, around 91,000 of whom remain in Al Hol, Roi, Mahmoudi and Areesha camps.
