In response to recent developments in the region, IOM and UNHCR collected information on cross-border movements—specifically inflows into Pakistan from the Islamic Republic of Iran—drawing on multiple sources<sup>1</sup> and corroborating data where possible. This report provides cumulative information on the nationality of incoming individuals, disaggregated by border crossing point, and presents nationality-based flow trends, covering the period from 1 March to 14 May 2026.<sup>2</sup> IOM and UNHCR continue to monitor the situation closely and provide regular updates.

<sup>2</sup> Since 14 March 2026, inflow types are no longer shared; only total flows are available.

<sup>3</sup> Based on local sources, all Iranian inflows since 1 March 2026 either possess a valid Pakistani visa and Iranian passport. Since 01 April 2026, the Rahdari pass, a temporary entry permit, is no longer considered valid documentation to enter Pakistan. Apart from documentation status, these movements may reflect routine activities, such as tourism, trade, transit, family visits, or may represent precautionary and temporary travel as individuals assess the ongoing situation in the Islamic Republic of Iran. The majority of Iranian arrivals subsequently returned to the Islamic Republic of Iran, primarily as their visits were trade-related.

<sup>4</sup> Data for 8 May 2026 was not available for Gabd-Rimdan border.
